

Numbing Agents

Revocation

Possessed and mindless, completely lacking substance Worshipping gossip and insipid excess

Consumed by consumption
Devoted to dysfunction
This is what you've become Vapid, empty

You cannot help yourself, obsessed with nothing else but blather Glorified banality, with no humanity just chatter

Zombified, the bran dead now arise
With desire in their eyes and nothing on their minds Can I defy? Or be commercialized
We must sever the ties that bind

What has bred this culture?
Full of distractions Caring not for significant issues, only for coming attractions

Programmed by programming Stupefaction is what they bring Liquefied brains melting
Cling to nothing

These numbing agents, spreading their contagion
Infecting our society
We have fallen into a deep narcosis
Enslaved yet thinking we are free
