

Unattained

Revocation

Righteousness reaches out cunning hands,
Molding the minds of the meek.
Mindfked by hope of a promised land
Unattained; reward not received.

A pious purpose, automated response,
A synthetic, sympathetic reaction,
In sheltered simplicity real emotions are lost
To dispassionate stupefaction.

An innocent indoctrination, numbing mind-conversion:
Thoughts beaten down while spirit drowns in ignorance immersion.

Abandon all hope, see, feel, hear and taste nothing
Within and without, surrounded by suffering

Deliver me from my senses

Spurn the consolation of religion
And illusions of immortality.
When you savor eternal suffering,
Purged, purified, you..ll be set free.

Desperately I seek truth
Though rendered senseless by my mind.
Striving forward with baited breath,
I reach for what it hides.

An innocent indoctrination, numbing mind-conversion:
Thoughts beaten down while spirit drowns in ignorance immersion.

Abandon all hope, see, feel, hear and taste nothing
Within and without, surrounded by suffering

Deliver me from my senses.
