

Every Turn

Rhodes

I was in a store
And folding t-shirts for alcohol money
And I lost count of my mistakes
Could not escape them
Oh, it's difficult to try and explain
I never thought that I could change that
And every time I saw your grace
I couldn't face it

And you say, "Don't worry, don't blame yourself
Everything leads us to now"
And that's worth every turn, every scar
Every burn, all that hurt

Well, something is always
Getting me looking back
Tryna change the past
But always
I'm so thankful for
All that I got wrong
'Cause now that I'm a little wiser
Everything is getting brighter
With you here by my side
I'm so thankful for
All that I got wrong

I can feel the world around me moving
I can see the little things now
Like waking up to the sun in the morning
Like moonlight dancing on your skin
Like sitting close and watching movies
And that's worth every turn, every scar
Every burn, all that hurt

Well, something is always
Getting me looking back
Tryna change the past
But always
I'm so thankful for
All that I got wrong
'Cause now that I'm a little wiser
Everything is getting brighter
With you here by my side
I'm so thankful for
All that I got wrong

All I got wrong
Oh, darling I'm so thankful for that now
You're all I want

Something is always
Tryna change the past
But always
I'm so thankful for
All that I got wrong

Everything is getting brighter
I'm so thankful for
All that I got wrong
