

Run

Rhodes

Do you remember when we used to run
Sometimes I think alone
I dream over the side
And I know, it's a long long time ago now.
And I miss it. Miss it so.

Hold it. Hold down to the world.
Hold, hold on to yourself.

Oh, why do we run so far from each other
Why is it love, love, so hard to remember.

And I'm tired now. Tired of growing.
We never did, we never did walk alone anyway.

So hold. Hold down for us.
Hold. Hold down to yourself.

Oh, why do we run so far from each other
Oh why is it love, love, love. So hard to remember.

In the silence of your hearth beats your mind.
And you though you might disguise them from mine.

Oh why do we run, run, run. So far from each other.
Oh is it love, so hard to remember.□
Oh why do we run, run, run. So far from each other.
Oh is it love, love, love, so hard to remember.□
