

Empty Handed

Richard Smallwood

Well i've seen the damage that you've caused
Well i've seen all those babies that you've killed for you
And I know you are staring right at me
But I know you will be waiting for me empty handed

Why them
Why did you take their innocence
Why can't you leave them alone
I've seen your sick and twisted ways
This world is now become your demented hideaway
Lets take some time to set this record straight
God knows that you're a baby and you're weak
