

Break It All Down

Richie Kotzen

You can look into my life You can blame it all on time
You can cry until your blind you can try
You can tell me in a lie You can strip away my pride
You can fight until you die You can try

But when you break it all down
one day you'll realize you are the reason why
If you can break it all down then you can change your life
Yeah you can try

You can look me in the eyes you can take me for a ride
You can burn me till in dry You can try
But when you break it all down
One day you'll realize you are the reason why
If you can break it all down then you can change your life
Yeah you can try
