Doing What the Devil Says to Do

Richie Kotzen

I find it hard, to believe
It took all of my living years for me to see
The most of the things I´ve ever wanted
And most of the things I´ve ever owned, keep me from knowing my Soul

I feel I´m falling into a trial
I´m listening to a lot of people telling me what I could have
And you know, it´s sound so good, when your head is full of Substances and deceive
I don´t wanna be lonely, I need a word
I don´t wanna be hurted the way that I am

And I´m trying to talk to an angel
But I feel like I´m talking to myself
No matter how hard I try to live
Or how much I believe in you, I´ll keep doing what the devil
Says to do
I´ll keep doing what the devil says to do

I keep talking to myself and the conversation never seems to Change
You´re a liar, you´re a fool and you think you´re paying dues
Saying that you´re hopeless, faithless, but that ain´t true
You´re just living something I can´t find my way out of

And I´m trying to talk to an angel
But I feel like I´m talking to myself
No matter how hard I try to live
Or how much I believe in you, I´ll keep doing what the devil
Says to do
I´ll keep doing what the devil says to do

And I listen to my heart, I listen to my soul and i´m doing wha t
My heart tells me to do
I´ll keep doing what the devil says to do
