

Night of a Thousand Furry Toys

Rick Wright

Night Of A Tousand Furry Toys
Now you feel it, a shiver and you begin
Frozen breath that scrapes across the skin
And a sound you've never heard before, you screaming
Welcome to the world of random noise
Where you simply haven't got a choice
When they push your levers and pull your strings
It's another world, it's a better world that we bring
Here you are on the planet of hot and cold
Where you'll do exactly as you're told
In a world of a thousand furry toys
You can hear the screams
Of little girls and boys
It's a charming noise
If you really want that kind of thing, mama
Now you feel it, a shiver and you've begun
When they pull those strings how you'll start to run!
And there's no stepping off or stepping down
It's another world and it's a better world,
That's what we have found
