

Ripples

Rie fu

You know what they say ain't true
That after love it's all through
Love is not the ending to a story told
It's only the beginning, we've got a long way to go

Every day you'll write about it while they're sleeping
Hoping I can pick up the missing pieces
It'll be so easy to see the big picture
But instead, it leads to a million questions
Everything you see is only on the surface
Sending out the signals in our direction
It'll be so easy to dive in deeper

There is more to love than your own reflection

(wider than the ripples, than the ripples) x2
(wider than the ripples of love)

The time is right, but I'll just wait forever
Let your body go and push on forward
It'll be so easy to spread out wide
But instead, they only stack it up high

(wider than the ripples, than the ripples) x2
(wider than the ripples of love)
(wider than the ripples)
