

The Descendant

Rise to Fall

I've travelled thousands of light years to get here I've seen the past, the future, and now I'm back to make you comprehend the discoveries of my time Time, such an abstract concept
I sailed the galaxies and now I know who I am

Fade away - like a dying star I implode before exploding
I couldn't help in here, so I left the only useful thing in me

Stop beholding from behind the safety fence Forget your differences, it is time to react to suffering and injustice, to all the hate that brings death Death is just a human construct but if you don't change you'll vanish from the face of the earth

Fade away - like a dying star I implode before exploding
I couldn't help in here, so I left the only useful thing in me

To travel in time is to travel in space off set spacial divergence

Fade away - like a dying star I implode before exploding
I couldn't help in here, so I left the only useful thing in me
