

Oh, Virginia

Robben Ford

Oh Virginia, there's a lot to be said
For when the day settles down and we go off to bed
We can make our own light in the deep of the night
Naturally...

But when the rain leaks in through the roof,
Will your love be waterproof?
When things don't come easy, will you still up to ease me?
Would you wear my clothes, spend the night with cold toes?
Go where the wind blows me, take what the times throw me?
Oh Virginia...

Oh Virginia, it feels good together
I've been an unstable man, had a run a bad weather
But from right where we are, think I might see a star
Over you and me
But if words could make you blind,
Is there a chance you change your mind?
If someone should accuse me,
Would you turn and refuse me?
Would you take my part
To keep the faith in you heart?
Know that I'm for real, nothing to conceal
Oh Virginia...

Oh Virginia, I'm ready indeed
To give our live God, I can follow all lead
Through good times or less
I would always say yes
To you and me
But if the hard times linger on
Is there a chance I'll find you gone?
Could I wake to a letter says you're looking for better?
Or would you stand by me?
Oh Virginia...Cause you can count on me

Oh my Virginia...

My my Virginia...
