Sonny Got Caught In The Moonlight

Robbie Robertson

Sonny got caught in the moonlight A wanted man with a haunted heart Sonny found out the hard way

Playing for keeps, loser weeps He said he'd come back when the lion sleeps

Struck by lightning, the fire is dying And she called out your name Sudden thunder, the sky is crying Can't tell the tears from the rain

Sonny got caught in the moonlight Paint graffiti on the subway wall Sonny got lost in the blue night They stood like statues, legs spread wide Catch him in the crossfire and take him by surprise

Struck by lightning, the fire is dying And she called out your name Sudden thunder, the sky is crying Can't tell the tears from the rain Can't tell the tears from the rain

Most my life I've been running Paint a portrait of a fool With my heart in my hands They've come to take me down

Sonny got caught in the moonlight By the power that can turn the tide I heard three shots around midnight

Driven by the passion, running from the heat No questions asked he's just a kid from the street
