

Come Share My Love

Roberta Flack

Perhaps how we feel today
Tomorrow may be gone
Perhaps we'll leave our dreams
Far behind

But today is still today
And before it wall fades away
While we are together
And while there is still time

Come share my love
Come share my love
While we are young
And we are free
Come share my life
Come share my love
Come and share the good times
With me

I don't ask for it
I don't need much of your time
Just time enough to love and laugh for a while

And if it lasts a lifetime
Or only one more night
Whatever is meant to be will be
And that will be all right

Come share my love
Come share my love
While we are young
And we are free
Come share my life
Come share my love
Come and share the good times
With me
