

I'm Holding On to You

Robin Trower

I'm gonna make a list of things that worry me
Tear it up and throw it on in the fire
Won't be disturbed by the world's atrocities
But think about the love that you inspire

Cause baby you been wrapped
In the center of what we have
Keeping me from sinking
Into the shifting sand
I'm holding on to you

Every sleeve I've twisted
Ain't gonna bother me
Even if it turns me inside out
Every path brings me back eventually
Into the arms I was grieving about

But baby you been wrapped

In the center of what we have
Keeping me from sinking
Into the shifting sand
I'm holding on to you

The passage of time
Has made me something to fear
That the years we had to get him is never fair
Through the highs and lows
Your mind is always clear
Moving up out of the sun and into the shade

Cause baby you been wrapped
In the center of what we have
Keeping me from sinking
Into the shifting sand
I'm holding on to you
