Rodney Atkins

Taking my truck, guitar, the VCR and what's left of me Ain't no better off, just used and simply confused by your comp lexity

Cause you took my heart and my soul and my self-esteem All that remains to be seen yeah is.

What's left of me, it's a mystery
You were so devastatingly beautiful while I was brilliantly nai

I'm what happens to a puppet when somebody cuts the strings
What's left of me

I should've known I couldn't survive on my knees at that pace You left a catalog of blue hang-dog expressions on my face Like a wrecking ball, breaking hearts slicker than Vaseline All in all I'm lucky to keep uh-huh

What's left of me, it's a mystery You were so devastatingly beautiful while I was brilliantly nai ve

What's left of me

Someday I might just get back in line That's if my nerve returns, considering I find

I'm taking my truck, guitar, the VCR and what's left of me
