

Loving You Makes Me Strong

Rodney Crowell

Loving you makes me strong makes me want to live forever Gives me the strength to carry on through the rain and wind and weather
Loving you makes me bold it makes me climb the highest mountain Builds a fire down in my soul brings me water from the fountain Loving you makes me strong and when it's time to face tomorrow I'll be right where I belong loving you makes me strong Somehow I stumbled into your world down on my knees is where yo u found me
Now I awake up in your arms I can't believe they're still aroun d me Loving you gives me hope it gives me something I can stand on And when I'm running out of rope it's something I can get my ha nds on
Loving you makes me strong...
And loving you makes me strong loving you makes me strong
