

Let's get away from all those neon lights
You make me wanna get lost in slow motion
There's never gonna be a status(?) night
I will do everything, you are my everything

In five years this heart of mine
Has never lost it's rhythm for you
Every memory, like a Polaroid
Cause all I am is reflected in you

My favorite snapshot of life
Is what I find inside your eyes
And that I know where I belong
My favorite snapshot of life
Let me take one more tonight
Cause you're the only one that I want

Day after day I watch you fall asleep
I wish these moments could last for a lifetime
Cause when the world returns to lightning speed
Then you slow it down for me, you slow it down for me

In five years this heart of mine
Has never lost it's rhythm for you
Every memory, like a Polaroid
Cause all I am is reflected in you

My favorite snapshot of life
Is what I find inside your eyes
And that I know where I belong
My favorite snapshot of life
Let me take one more tonight
Cause you're the only one that I want

Some of these pictures have faded away
I remember the beautiful
You give me a million of them everyday
Cause my favorite snapshot is you

My favorite snapshot of life
Is what I find inside your eyes
And that I know where I belong
My favorite snapshot of life
Let me take one more tonight
Cause you're the only one that I want
