

In Your Arms

Ronan Keating

There were always signs of you
Hidden in clear view
Some pieces of you scattered across the landscape
Of my life
Your eyes belonged to fragments of nostalgia
Your hands and your smile too
Though every part of you was new
There was only ever you

In your arms
In your arms I will wait oh I will wait
In your arms
In your arms I will stay oh I will stay

Did you look away
Did you try to hide your face
In broken photographs or passing glances
On our time
Wish I had never known a life without you
Let's re-write this book anew
Every page that I went through
Is a new memory of you

In your arms
In your arms I will wait oh I will wait
In your arms
In your arms I will stay oh I will stay
I'll stay
In your arms
In your arms I will wait oh I will wait
In your arms
In your arms I will stay oh I will stay
