Stranger Things Have Happened

Ronnie Milsap

I keep talking to your picture But a smile is all you say It's a lonely conversation But missing you is easier this way

Last night a shadow filled the doorway And I heard footsteps on the stairs Then I woke up this morning And thought I saw you standing there

Stranger things have happened And I'll always believe If stranger things can happen You could still come back to me

One touch is worth a thousand pictures What might have been ain't worth a dime I just hope someday I'll hold you Another place, some other time

Stranger things have happened And I'll always believe If stranger things can happen You could still come back to me

If stranger things can happen You could still come back to me Stranger things have happened
