

Sing For The Wind

Roo Panes

It's said I run like a stubborn tide,
Unstoppable, untamed and wild,
But a brave face isn't brave I've learned,
And as I searched for wisdom I remembered your words,

You told me "sing for the wind my love,
Fear not for tomorrow,
Cos love's the journey of a lifetime,
And where you finish isn't where you start"

So tomorrow doesn't worry me,
And though the path be untravelled at least I'm free,
To be great not just to be,
That's what your wise old words taught me.

You told me "sing for the wind my love,
Fear not for tomorrow,
Cos love's the journey of a lifetime,
And where you finish isn't where you start"
