

Sketches Of Summer

Roo Panes

Born in summer robes
A child of June, but how much brighter than before
Yeah I'm younger now since you
I sat down on the train
Between the cars while all the world was rushing past
I felt I am because you are
Like you were the theme tune
Like I was about you

It went, oh you're everything
You're everything to me
Oh, you were summer time
Were everything to to me

And the sweetest part of day is when you stay
A little longer than you say
And linger on in evenings way

Oh to be closer
Oh to be closer

Oh, you're everything
You're everything to me
Oh, you're everything
You're everything to me
Oh, you're everything
You're everything to me
