

The Sun Will Rise Over The Year

Roo Panes

You can't see in the dark
When all you see is red
And you're lying there in bed
Having trouble with your head
And all you tell yourself
Is all the told you so's
The things you always knew and you still know

But you'll be alright
You wake up on the other side
And the sun will rise
Maybe you will be surprised

So you take it to the streets
Sing it to the empty seats
You thought you'd found the real thing
You're getting tired of believing
It's a funny thing that night
Is when you miss the light
But you're gonna be alright
Yeah, you're gonna be alright
Yeah, you're gonna be alright

If you wake up wondering how did I get here?
Well, the sun will rise over the year
And you'll wake up and you find the sky is clear
'Cause the sun will rise over the year

You'll be alright
You'll wake up on the other side
And the sun will rise
Maybe you will be surprised (Maybe you will be surprised)

If you wake up wondering how did I get here?
Well, the sun will rise over the year
And you'll wake up and you find the sky is clear
'Cause the sun will rise over the year
