

Vanished Into Everything

Roo Panes

Even now I can see you in my view somehow I can hear you in the whispering rain
I can feel you in the air

I know your stare the kind I cannot help but be aware You have the strangest way of stealing wind as if the world was breathing in

Oh, you're all around me
since you vanished into everything
Oh, you're all around me
since you vanished into everything

Oh, you vanished into everything Oh, it's like you vanished into everything

There's a song you've been composing while the days were long The crescendo of the summer's roar
The pizzicato of the dawn

And I can hear them
since you vanished into everything
Oh, I can hear them
since you vanished into everything
