

Only Human

Rosanne Cash

If I was stoned and on my own maybe I could take it When you leave me all alone But you know I'm only human and it hurts me when you're gone

If my heart was like a diamond, just as cold as ice When I see you with another, you know I might not be surprised But you know I'm only human and I've got to pay the price

Oh the blue sky reminds me of the place you put me in You know I'm only human time and time again

If I could make it any better I would be no matter what I stay inside alone and suffer and give up everything I've got But you know I'm only human and you treat me like I'm not

Oh the blue sky reminds...

If I could make it any better..
