

Never Say Never

Rough Silk

Never say never - never say die never never never - never say die time is a liar life is a trail lords of desire and the cheque's in mail close your eyes and you will see the dark side of your fantasy eyes of lust and dreams of black heroes gone that won't come back politicians cheat and lie blind corruption makes you cry destination face to face conscience gone without a trace white man - black man - might have been just the colour - of your skin "all the people shall be equal!" so why do we cause the pain?

"...It is a fact that most crimes committed against people because of their colour or religion had nothing to do with the individual personality of the victims. Since the tragic death of Dr. Martin Luther King the word race war has got a terrifying meaning to all minorities all over the world..."

never look back when you say goodbye you gotta be black - you gotta be white never say never - unchain the night

Lost in the darkness - strangers on the loose even your touch now can't take away my blues destiny - the rest of me hatred took humanity freedom is the only treasure so why can't you let it be

"... is pain just another word for life? do we first have to bleed before we reach the point to be somebody do dreams come true after loneliness and desperation have gone?
some say yey - some say no - but in the end:
who knows?..."

you gotta be the light Never say never - never say Cain never shed tears in the falling rain you gotta be strong on the edge of your life never say never - shall we die?
