

When I take it back you see the other side of me
It's time I fall and let the hidden inside free

I'm not leaving
But I'm not staying here

And so I beat my face against the wall
Till the blood runs down, down my jaw
And then I wake up naked, burned in the morning sun

Time I take my peace before I make my final stand
Try and take away all the best things that I am

I'm not leaving
But I'm not staying here

And so I beat my face against the wall
Till the blood runs down, down my jaw
And then I wake up naked, burned in the morning sun

And I'm not ashamed of what I've done
It's made me the man that I've become
So I wake up naked, burned in the morning sun

I'm not leaving
But I'm not staying here

Oh it's all I know
It's all I have done before
The nights hoping you'll then come

And so I beat my face against that wall
Till the blood runs down, down my jaw
And then I wake up naked, burned in the morning sun

And I'm not ashamed of what I've done
It's made me the man that I've become
So I wake up naked, burned in the morning sun

Burned
Burned
Burned
Burned
