

Wake Up

Royal Bliss

Will I find comfort in not knowing
In the days and in the moments
When I find myself a little weak

And I can't begin to show it
They say it will get better
Will you ever hear the words I keep

Why don't you wake up
I hear you breathing
I need to tell you one more time

Why don't you wake up
I can't believe it
I need to tell you one more time

I feel the stare of the Main Street
Movie stars and beauty queens
Still feel the past beneath their feet

And the worn out feeling Savior
The cause of my behavior
Will I find my doubts, the ones I seek

Why don't you wake up
I hear you breathing
I need to tell you one more time

Why don't you wake up
I can't believe it
I need to tell you one more time

Can I take your place

Can we turn back time

Will I find my way
I feel like giving up
I feel like screaming out

Why don't you wake up
I hear you breathing
I need to tell you one more time

Why don't you wake up
Now don't you leave me
I need to tell you one more time

Wake up [x2]
I need to tell you one more time

Why don't you wake up
I can't believe it
I need to tell you one more time

Why don't you wake up
