

Hole in Your Heart

Royal Blood

Every time I think about it
I shiver like I've never shook
And all the while we talk about it
It never feels exactly like it should

Even if we turned it around
It would only do no good

So baby don't fake it
When you already know
You can't shake it
And it's starting to show
I can't fill that hole in your heart
Like I could at the start

I felt a fire burning long before
I even saw the smoke
A tragedy just looming over the horizon
Still there's a part of me that hopes

That we could just turn it around
But it would only do no good
Just remember there's nobody else
That could love you like I could

So baby don't fake it
When you already know
You can't shake it
And it's starting to show
I can't fill that hole in your heart
Like I could at the start

Yeah baby don't fake it
When you already know
You can't shake it
And it's starting to show
I can't fill that hole in your heart
Like I could at the start

So baby don't fake it
When you already know
You can't shake it
And it's starting to show
I can't fill that hole in your heart
Like I could at the start
I can't fill that hole in your heart
Like I could at the start
