

Tears of the Sun

Royal Hunt

While all of us walk alone... no help, we're on our own
The end - as they say - is a heartbeat away, so give me a reason to stay...

Roaring silence...you walk down the street in Belfast - think of it as every step that you take is your last...
It could be, easily, just keep on watching your back:
highest alert all the time - you are under attack, better keep moving

Rain's falling down on me as trying to make me see the scars of this town. Just leave it and run surrounded by tears of the sun

Shot in the distance - and fear bounces back from these walls,
someone ahead of you screams and suddenly falls Killings are random but there is a reason behind Retaliation? Well, half of the nation went blind while children in church are singing so peaceful, bells are ringing a lovely tune... I'm going mad!

Rain's falling down on me as trying to make me see
the scars of this town. Just leave it and run
surrounded by tears of the sun Rain's falling down on me... I wish it will let me be One day I'll be gone but whatever I've done's remembered by tears of the sun

You can't ask for forgiveness from Heaven
'til you've asked for forgiveness from men...
In this town it will take you forever, so who gives a damn?
