

Unconditional

Ruben Studdard

No safety net, no parachute
To hold on to if you fall
No plan B and no promises
No guaranties at all, yeah

When you ready to love
Like you never been hurt before
That kind of love is unconditional
It's in your heart completely rational
When you willing to give
No you mind risk at all
That kind of love is unconditional

Unscripted, unpredictable
It shouts "OK, it's your way"
No price tag and no instructions
And nothing to explain
When you know what to do
Though you never done it before

That kind of love is unconditional
It's in your heart completely rational
When you willing to give
No you mind risk at all
That kind of love is unconditional

When you're standing naked
With a nothing to hide
When you feel accepted
It don't criticize
Cause you're already perfect
In each other eyes

That kind of love is unconditional
It's in your heart completely rational
When you willing to give
No you mind risk at all
That kind of love is unconditional
Oh, yes it is
