

Heart Full of Rain

Rumer

I believe I've attempted
Every move that I know
I was sure that by now
You'd have let yourself go
I've been loving my heart out
And without any shame
Gotten down on my knees
Just to kindle this flame

But tonight I am down to the wire
I've been striking these matches in vain
Got a whole lot of smoke, but no fire
Cause you've got a heart full of rain

Now somewhere in your history
There's a reason or two
Why you won't let a body get close to you
Why the truth that I whisper
Always sounds like a lie
While you're drowning inside
From the tears you don't cry

But your blue eyes have never been drier
And you smile like you're feeling no pain
Got a whole lot of smoke, but no fire
Cause you've got a heart full of rain

I had hoped I could open
The heart that you hide
Cause it sure needs a little
Sunshine inside

But tonight I am down to the wire
I've been striking these matches in vain
Got a whole lot of smoke, but no fire
Cause you've got a heart full of rain
Cause you've got a heart full of rain
