the time has come it's time to leave the call has come it's time to depart

die...
when death is the key
i spread my wings

the voice within it's time to follow the call within it's time to...

die...
i spread my wings

i open the gate
i spread my wings
and let my soul free

die...
i spread my wings
