

Dark Circles

Ryan Beatty

Match me
When I tell you things
That no one knows about me
What keeps me up at night
What keeps you in my life

I left you
At a time when you were tryna get your life back
I'll probably end up somewhere in the limelight
What keeps me up at night
What keeps you in my life

I swear, if I could give you up, I would erase you
Get you out of my mind
It's all I think about
Let you go somewhere else
Try to let go, but I can't help

Alone in the clothes you let me borrow when the rain came
I'm laying down, and I can't help but daydream
Who do you idolize now?
Do you ever think about me?

Think about me
Think about me
Think about me

I don't have the bones to be free
I believe in love when he
Confesses himself inside me
I don't have the bones to be free
I believe in love when he
Confesses himself inside me

I think forever is too long
What does it mean to be loyal?
I put your jacket on
To make me feel important

I think forever is too long
What does it mean to be loyal?
I put your jacket on
To make me feel important

Never wanna be someone else's lover
Never wanna be someone else's lover
Never wanna be someone else's lover
Never wanna be someone else's lover
Never wanna be someone else's lover
Never wanna be someone else's lover

I don't have the bones to be free
I believe in love when he
Confesses himself inside me
I don't have the bones to be free
I believe in love when he
Confesses himself inside me

I don't have the bones to be free
I believe in love when he
Confesses himself inside me
I don't have the bones to be free
I believe in love when he
Confesses himself inside me
I don't have the bones to be free
I believe in love when he
Confesses himself inside me
