

Here Son

Ryan Star

Here son
A blindfold to watch all your family
Die at the hands of tyranny
They say that the senses
Might alter the way that you'll feel

Here son
A life coat to keep you warmer
Possessions won't stop all the thunder
From taking my life
They said it would turn out this way
They said it would turn out this way

Die and die again
Die and die again
Die and die again

Don't stop believing
I'm still breathing
So go on, and leave me
Don't you leave me

Here son
The life that we lead holds a sadness
And the world's better men fall to madness
And all that we keep is the love
You're feeling right now
Is the love that you're feeling right now

Die and die again
Die and die again
Die and die again

Don't stop believing
I'm still breathing
So go on and leave me
Don't you leave me

Here son
A blindfold to watch all your family
Die at the hands of tyranny
They say that the senses
Might alter the way that you,
Might alter the way that you feel

Die and die again
Die and die again
Die and die again
Die and die again
Die again

Oh please God, believe me (a blindfold to watch your family)
Don't you leave me (die at the hands of tyranny)
Don't stop believing (they say that the senses might alter the way)
Don't you leave me (might alter the way that you feel)

Here son

The life that we lead holds the sadness
The world's better men fall to madness
And all that we keep is the love
