

Cycle

Sabrina Claudio

I didn't make it this far
Just to make it this far

This just part of the cycle
This the part when the flower starts to bloom after rain
And gets the nutrients it needs to grow again
This the part when the sun sets
And the nighttime starts to overload your brain
But the sun will always rise in the morning

I didn't make it this far
I didn't make it this far
Just to make it this far
(Just to make it this far)
I didn't work this damn hard
I didn't work this damn hard
Not to leave my own mark

This is part of the cycle
This the part when you lose something you work so hard to gain
But the universe will always have its way
To prove to you it wasn't a mistake
This just part of the cycle
And you have to learn to move out of its way
And you'll figure out the reason why someday

I didn't make it this far
I didn't make it this far
Just to make it this far
(Just to make it this far)
I didn't work this damn hard
I didn't work this damn hard
Not to leave my own mark
