

Too Much Too Late

Sabrina Claudio

You're a flower
In the garden that I take advantage of Endlessly admiring
Every aspect of my nature yeah
And I know
I've never loved the way you do
When your last petal falls
Is when I try to get to you

But am I not
Too much too late
I know I shouldn't be calling
So much to say
About the way that I'm falling 'cause I
Turn you away
Now I'm wondering if I am
Too much too late

You're a diamond
In the middle of a hundred thousand stones
Constantly reminding me that
I am worth as much as gold
And I know I
Can never come close in comparison
If you give me one more chance again
I swear I'll do things different

But am I not
Too much too late
I know I shouldn't be calling
So much to say
About the way that I'm falling 'cause I
Turn you away
Now I'm wondering if I am
Too much too late

(Doom da da dadoom)
Am I
(Doom da da dadoom)
Am I
(Doom da da dadoom)
Am I
(Doom da da dadoom)
Am I
(Doom da da dadoom)
Am I
(Doom da da dadoom)

Too much too late
I know I shouldn't be calling
So much to say
About the way that I'm falling 'cause I
Turn you away
Now I'm wondering if I am
Too much too late

But am I not
Too much too late
I know I shouldn't be calling
So much to say
About the way that I'm falling 'cause I
Turn you away
Now I'm wondering if I am
Too much too late

Too much too late
So much to say
Turn you away
Too much too late
