

Pachycrocuta

Sadist

How difficult it was to live millions of years ago...
There were huge harmless animals of the plains,
Millions of years after overlooks the root of a skyscraper
There were large carnivores, scaring butchers
Invited by the smell of blood to the banquet
Their screamin' crazy eager to sink their teeth longer

In the side of those who do not know the desire to kill
And then their were, carnivores developed by the strong jaws 200 pounds, maybe more, with my strength I was fighting for

I had strong teeth, rip, this was my mission
Break up your body a single bite,
Ready to destroy...
