

Eight in the morning
Feels so much clearer when you're sober
Clearer when you're sober
I'm a fool by the evening
Chasing highs but I'm only getting lower
I'm only getting lower

I don't wanna rule the world
But I don't wanna watch it burn
All I need is just someone to say
Hey hey

It's alright, it's alright to not be alright
It's alright, it's alright
Gotta find a way, gotta find a way
To keep the light on for another day
It's alright, it's alright to not be alright

Face by the water
Letting go of things that tried to pull me under
That tried to pull me under

Tired of playing stupid games
Looking for a face to blame
All I need is just someone to say
Hey hey

It's alright, it's alright to not be alright
It's alright, it's alright
Gotta find a way, gotta find a way
To keep the light on for another day
It's alright, it's alright to not be alright

(It's alright, it's alright) to not be alright
It's alright, it's alright

I don't wanna rule the world
But I don't wanna watch it burn
All I need is just someone to say
Hey hey

It's alright, it's alright to not be alright
It's alright, it's alright
Gotta find a way, gotta find a way
To keep the light on for another day
It's alright, it's alright to not be alright

(It's alright, it's alright) to not be alright
(It's alright, it's alright) to not be alright
(It's alright, it's alright) to not be alright
(It's alright, it's alright) to not be alright
