

The Light

Sakis Rouvas

I will be your rain
I will be your wind
I will be the light shining from within

I walked these streets with you all my life
Each step our memory goes by
And as we walk these streets time after time

You know I see you
You know I feel you
Oh some things change but you will always be the same
In my heart
Ooooooh

I will be your rain
I will be your wind
Open up your door I'll come rushing in
In your darkest hour
In you time of need
I will be the light shining from within
From within

We talk all night and dream about our lives
It's strange how the years have flown by
And as we laugh the tears fall from my eyes
'Cause no one knows me the way you know me
Oh some things change but we will always be the same
For all time
Ooooooh

I will be your rain
I will be your wind
Open up your door I'll come rushing in
In your darkest hour
In you time of need
I will be the light shining from within
From within

I will be your rain
I will be your wind
Open up your door I'll come rushing in
In your darkest hour
In you time of need
I will be the light shining from within

Morning, noon and night
In the spring and fall
Summer seasons time
I will be there
Oh
In your darkest hour
In you time of need
I will be the light shining from within
I walked these streets with you all my life
