

Exactly Like You

Sam Cooke

I know why I waited know why I've been blue I've been praying for someone, baby
exactly like you
why should we spend money, on a show or two while no one does those love scenes, baby

you make me feel so grand I wanna give this world to you you seem to understand each foolish little dream I'm dreaming and the schemes I'm scheming now I know why mother taught me to be true she meant me for someone, baby

just like you, baby, oh just like you mother meant me for someone exactly like you

know why I been blue I've been waiting for someone, baby
exactly like you
why should we spend money on a show or two

each foolish little dream I'm dreaming
now I know why mother taught me to be true she meant me for someone

just like you, baby, just like you
just like you, baby, pretty just like you
