What could one possibly say
To someone who ignores his way
Who's never been touched by grace

How could one eventually express All the tension, all the stress That can't be read on his face

All the people that one met All the people that one left They enrich, they develop What one's got to reach the top

Being a sum of experiences Giving life the consistence Knowing details makes differences Entering a heart of existence

Tune your mind to the right channel Things get played at a higher scale Go memorize the frequency Isn't it phenomenal Don't you think it's magical The electric storm of ecstasy

Ride the wind, take on your destiny You gotta get much higher Fly your flight, get over society The world is far much bigger

Nothing is impossible Nothing is unreachable

Tune your mind to the right channel Things get played at a higher scale Go memorize the frequency Isn't it phenomenal Don't you think it's magical The electric storm of ecstasy

Fear's got no place around here What we see, what we hear Format our comprehension The un-thought, things we ignore All the pulses and all the more Wait to reach our perception

Spread your consistence to other territory Your vision's gonna get much clearer When the hunt is over parts meet in sympathy World peace is getting nearer... Spread your conscience to other territory Your vision's gonna get much clearer When the hunt is over parts meet in sympathy World peace is getting nearer...

Nothing is impossible

Nothing is unreachable So....