

Smile

Sámer Issa

We watched a sunset slowly slip out of view.
We saw the colors dance and fade to blue.
Soon there was an encore of summer stars to light up the sky,
a mystery unfolding with the night.

You're tearing down all my defenses;
I don't stand a chance against this.
There's no use in putting up a fight.
Girl, you got me going crazy;
You should know I'm helpless, baby,
anytime you look at me and smile.

You move in closer and don't let go of my eyes, baby,
then whisper words that turn a spark into fire,
I used to think that I could be strong, but that's not true.
Seems I can't resist someone like you.

You're tearing down all my defenses;
I don't stand a chance against this.
There's no use in putting up a fight.
Girl, you got me going crazy;
You should know I'm helpless, baby,
anytime you look at me and smile.
