

Trials Of Life

Sami Yusuf

My life is not the same
When I'm too concerned by what they say
Why should I? When I have you
To doubt you would be the worst mistake

Deep inside I know
That amidst all the darkness
And everything, which makes no sense
I know that you exist
You are the light
That guides me through my darkest nights
That shows me right from wrong in life
In a world that often lies

Cause I don't need anyone
Nor anything in life
But You
No I don't need anyone
To show me my way
No I don't need anyone
But You

Trials of life upon me
Are more precious than diamonds and gold
Tested with fire I may be
But I know I'll come out stronger in this world

Deep inside I know
That amidst all the darkness
And everything, which makes no sense
I know that you exist
You are the light
That guides me through my darkest nights
That shows me right from wrong in life
In a world that often lies

Cause I don't need anyone
Nor anything in life
But You
No I don't need anyone
To show me my way
No I don't need anyone
But You

I only want the things
You know is best for me
I'd gladly sacrifice
If that's what you decree
I would break and
Mourn in eternity
Perish into the sea
If that's what you want for me
