

Well

Samiam

i'm standing on the edge looking in i'd like to throw a coin in the wishing well thinking so hard my head caves in only time will tell if my wish comes true wishing for the rain to come for it to flood and i'll be done wishing you back here again alone again