

Tomorrow

Sandie Shaw

Tomorrow I'll see him
Tomorrow he's arriving home after being away quite some time
And then there'll be him thinking I've been loving him alone
How can I say I don't want him to be mine
He trusted me, I know it's true
I broke that trust, I've someone new
And I don't like what I must do tomorrow

Tomorrow there'll be tears
I realize that he loves me so and he really has been so good to me I've known him almost two years and now I must let him go Though I'm sorry it's the way it must be
He trusted me, I know it's true
I broke that trust, I've someone new
And I don't like what I must do tomorrow

Tomorrow I must tell him it's all over now
What else can I do I don't love him no more

Tomorrow I feel better
When I tell him of what I must do can't go on cheating him anymore Couldn't write it in a letter telling him our romance is through
He trusted me, I know it's true
Though I don't love him
I respect him as before
I broke that trust, I've someone new
And I don't like what I must do tomorrow
And I don't like what I must do tomorrow