Loving a person just the way they are, it's no small thing It takes some time to see things through Sometimes things change, sometimes we're waiting We need grace either way

Hold on to me
I'll hold on to you
Let's find out the beauty of seeing things through

There's a lot of pain in reaching out and trying It's a vulnerable place to be Love and pride can't occupy the same spaces baby Only one makes you free

I'll hold on to you
Let's find out the beauty of seeing things through

If we go looking for offense
We're going to find it
If we go looking for real love
We're going to find it
