

Adore You

Sarah Blackwood

I've made a million mistakes lord
How am I gonna make it through your door
He said that he's forgiven my mistakes lord
But I can't seem to do so anymore

My regret moves, slowly tears through
But I just keep moving on
I'll still adore you, hold on and stay true
But I'm still just moving on

This bottle ain't got no mistakes lord
But I'm a girl that'll take it to the floor
There's something I know is a mistake lord
But when I close my eyes I'm mistaken no more

My regret moves, slowly tears through
But I just keep moving on
I'll still adore you, hold on and stay true
But I'm still just moving on

Don't just wait it out
All twisted in your head and it's dragging you down
Don't throw it all away now
Get out

If I keep getting closer to my heart lord
Will it help me up and over this here wall
They say, that reason has no edge lord
But I'm standing here and I'm just about to fall

My regret moves, slowly tears through
But I just keep moving on
I'll still adore you, hold on and stay true
But I'm still just moving on
