

Everybody's On TV

Sarah Slean

oh divided young
cat has got your tongue you don't say anything when all around you the clock is ticking don't know what to say?
say it anyway!
it's all an opera
with your aria not yet written and now we're lining up to see the movie of our vanity
everybody
everybody
everybody's on TV
doctor doctor please
it's still the same disease but it's hard to operate when the patient's alive and kickin' how to slow us down enough to look around
'cause the unexamined life well it's certainly not worth living now we're lining up to see
the movie of our vanity!
everybody
everybody's on TV
so beautiful a screen
from the sublime to the obscene in the land of TV
who needs a life to lead when you can watch it all for free
