What if the world was out of trouble What if the world was out of pain Would it be a world thats worth living in Without anything Thats worth a sin

What if the world was out of hope
Would you find a place where you belong
You said to yourself that you'd never make it that far
And the mountains too high
The answer is

Just around the hill
Just around the hill
Take a look from the other side
Suddenly you see
There are many ways
Don't go astray
Just walk around
Walk around that hill

What if the world was out of love
And all that we do don't mean a thing
You take a chance
No suffering
No suffering
For anything
You're risking yourself
Do you really want it that way?
The mountains too high
The answer is

Just around the hill Just around the hill Take a look from the other side Suddenly you see There are many ways Don't go astray Just walk around Walk around that hill Just around the hill Take a look from the other side Suddenly you'll see There are many ways To go astray Just walk around Walk around that hill Walk around that hill Hmmm Walk around that hill
