

Homecoming

Saviour

I'm coming home
I know what I want now, I'm coming home
These depths feel all too familiar
I know what I want now, I'm coming home
These dark clouds seem to follow me
And do you think that it is worth it?
I think I'll take the long way home
These depths seem to swallow me
I can't forget the thought, I can't forget
I can't forget the thought
I think I'll take the long way home
These dark clouds seem to follow me
I can't forget the thought, I can't forget
I can't forget the thought
I think I'll take the long way
Home is where you make it
You must believe it
I'm coming home
